Kamphaeng Phet

"Land of the world's heritage"

Kamphaeng Phet is an important province. During the Sukhothai era, it was a town whose status was recognized as that of the crown ruling town, it is presumed to have been established in 1347 during the Reign of King Ler Thai, the 4th King of the Sukhothai dynasty and it was called "Cha Kang Rao" (ชาทั้งราว) and "Nakhon Chum" (นครชุม).

Kamphaeng Phet occupies an area of 8,607.5 square kilometers and is located 358 kms. from Bangkok. This province is in the lower Northern Region, having its territory bordering on: Tak and Sukhothai in the north, Nakhon Sawan in the south, Phichit and Phitsanulok in the east and Tak in the west. It is administratively divided into seven Amphoes (District): Muang, Phran Kratai, Khlong Khlung, Khanu Woralakburi, Sai Ngam, Lan Krabu, and Khlong Lan, 3 King Amphoe (branch District), 76 Tambon (Sub-Districts) and 774 villages.

The province's economic condition in general is highly satisfactory. Its economic development growth is 9.4% yearly on the average. The average income is Baht 27,681 /person/year, the highest in the lower Northern Region.

The important economic crops are cassava, rice, sugar cane, corn, soybean, green pea, kluay khai (sweet mini banana).

Kamphaeng Phet has an important archaeological site known as the Kamphaeng Phet Historical Park and its impressive ruins attest to the splendor of its early past. There are about 40 monasteries and ruins have been registered with the United Nations Educational, Science, and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) as "the world's heritage".

TRAVELING

From Bangkok, drive along the highway no.32 through Ayutthaya, Ang Thong, Sing Buri, Chai Nat and Nakhon Sawan provinces before taking the highway no.1 directly to Kamphaeng Phet. The entire distance of 358 kms. takes about 5 hours. By bus, there is a daily service from the North Terminal Station. ATTRACTIONS

Kamphaeng Phet Historical Park

(อุทยานประวัติศาสตร์กำแพงเพชร)

Kamphaeng Phet Historical Park is located in the township area. The archaeological sites in the ancient city of Kamphaeng Phet is now under the renovation by the Fine Arts Departments and open to the public everyday from 8.30-16.00 hrs. The admission fee is 20 baht.

The ancient ruins in Kamphaeng Phet Historical Park are divided into 2 areas:

Inside The City Walls

Wat Phra Kaeo

(วัดพระแก้ว)

This important monastery is situated in The heart of Kamphaeng Phet City. Its walls are made of whole slabs of round sand stone laid parallel to the city walls. All structures within the monastery are made of sand stone and it is presided over by a large pagoda of Sri Lankan style.

A view of Wat Phra Kaeo and the presiding stucco Buddha images.

A handsome bronze sculpture of Phra Isuan (Siva) with an inscription at the base to the effect that the image was founded by Sri Dharma Asoka Raja in 1510 A.D.

Wat Phrathat

(วัดพระธาตุ)

This is the second largest monastery located within the city wall, just east of Wat Phra Kaeo. It is presided over by a pagoda built of sand stone and bricks, surrounded by a Vihara with sand stone walls having a gate on each side. The construction is classical Kamphaeng Phet style.

Kamphaeng Phet National Museum

(พิพิธภัณฑสถานแห่งชาติกำแพงเพชร)

This museum, located behind Wat Phra Kaeo, was officially opened in early 1970. It contains objects d'art. and archaeological objects of various periods from pre-historical times to the present, from all over Thailand, in addition to archaeological items from excavations in Kamphaeng Phet and its neighbouring provinces. It is open daily from 9.00-16.00 hrs. except Mondays, Tuesdays and official holidays, admission fee is 10 Baht.

San Phra Isuan (The Siva Shrine)

(ศาลพระอิศวร)

This shrine is situated behind the Provincial Court.

The structure is of square sand stone base with 1.5 meters high floor and a staircase. On the Chook Chee pedestal there is a bronze of Isuan God, cast during the period of Governor Chaowas Sudlaptha, (the genuine image is displayed in Kamphaeng Phet National Museum.) During the reign of King Rama V, however, a German tourist to Kamphaeng Phet secretly removed the head and hands of these idol and brought them to Bangkok in 1886. The Ruler of Kamphaeng Phet notified Bangkok about the incident and H.M.the King had personally requested the return of the head and hands. A replica was cast and graciously given as a replacement, which is now displayed in the Museum of Berlin, West Germany.

City Pillar Shrine

(ศาลหลักเมือง)

It has been built by King Woraman, during Sukhothai Period. It is highly respected by Kamphaeng Phet residents.

Wat Phra Non

(วัดพระนอน)

Wat Phra Non is the renovated Buddhist monastery with four laterite walls. Within its compound, there are a square-shaped well and bathrooms. Its church whose base and pillars are made of laterites, has the boundary stones called "SEMA" carved in as a diety in the Thai salute manner and other delicate designs. Behind the church is situated a vihara housing the reclining image of Buddha. The vihara's wall was partly cut into space blocks replaved by balusters. Another striking spot is its large pillars. Nowadays, this construction styles rarely found.

Wat Phra Si Ariyabot

(วัดพระศรีอริยาบท)

This monastery is locally called "Wat Phra Yuen". It is fronted by a large pond. The walls are of vertics sand stone slabs decorated on each side with Buddha images cast in each of the four attitudes, i.e.: Reclining, Walking, Standing and Sitting.

Wat Sing

(วัดสิงห์)

It is supposed that this monastery should have been constructed during both Sukhothai and Ayutthaya period because of its mixed styles of Arts.

Outside The City Walls

ported by 68 half-bodied elephant stature (head and fore-legs). This monastery has sand stone walls and is of early Ayutthaya or late Sukhothai architecture.

Wat Awat Yai

(วัดอาวาสใหญ่)

A monastery with huge construction project, consisting of many pagodas and viharas, is situated on the road to Amphoe Phran Kratai, about three kilometers north of Saphan Khom Gate. Its walls are of sand stone and in its courtyard is a large octagonal pagoda. In front of the monastery on the road side, there is a big square pond dug into sand stone floor called "Bo Sam Saen"

Muang Nakhon Chum

(เมืองนครชุม)

It is an ancient town located on the east bank of the Ping River. Its earthen wall 2-3 meters high was built in rectangular shape parallel to the Ping River from the east to the west. Situated within the town wall are some old Buddhist monasteries.

Wat Phra Borommathat Chediaram

(วัดพระบรมธาตุเจดีย์าราม)

This Buddhist monastery is located on the west bank of the Ping River and at the heart of Nakhon Chum Town. Within its compound there is a Burmese style Chedi. Many bronze Buddha images of the Sukhothai and Ayutthaya Periods were found in its temple situated to the south. It has been assumed that an original style of the Chedi is Sukhothai architecture traditionally called Phum Khao Bin. The present pattern is a result of the restoration by a Burmese millionaire one hundred years ago.

NATURAL TOURIST ATTRACTIONS

Apart from a great deal of historical tourist attractions, Kamphaeng Phet has also impressive places of natural beauty:

Mae Wong National Park

(อุทยานแห่งชาติแม่วงก์)

Mae Wong Forest is a joint area of two provinces namely Khamphaeng Phet and Nakhon Sawan. The forest in Nakhon Sawan is called Mae Wong-Mae Poen Forest. Another part in Kamphaeng Phet is called Khlung Mae Wong Forest-Khlung Khlung Forest. It was announced to be a national park since September 14, 1987. The park covers the whole area of 894 kms. or 558,750 rai. Its area of about 279,050 rai is under the administration of Kamphaeng Phet Province. Among its tourist attractions are Kang Pha Nang Khoi (Phra Nang Khoi Islet), Bo Nam Un (Warm Water Well), scenic points, Chong Lom (Mountain hole), Mae Krasa Waterfall, Mae Ki Waterfall, Mae Wong Waterfall, Mo Ko Chou Hill Top etc.

Transport

Travelers can use the route to Khlong Lan National Park. Along the route Khlong Lan-Um Phang, drive straight on from the turning to Khlong Lan Market for about 19 kms. before reaching the headquarters of Mae Wong National Park. The park accommodation is available for tourists.

Khlong Lan National Park

(อุทยานแห่งชาติคลองลาน)

This park is located about 42 kilometers west of Kamphaeng Phet. An asphalt road leads to the waterfall. A medium-sized, it flows year round. In the vicinity of the waterfall, there are several hill tribe villages, and one may see Yao, Mhong and Karen people. For accommodation in the National Park, contact National Park Division, Forestry

Department, Phahonyothin Road, BANGKOK 10900.
Tel: 579-0529, 579-4842.

Namtok Khlong Nam Lai (Pang Kwai)

(น้ำตกคลองน้ำไหลหรือน้ำตกปางควาย)

This 9-leveled waterfall is located 16 kms. from Khlong Lan Waterfall and there is access road to the waterfall itself. It has been established as a National Park and it flows year-round.

Khao Son Forest Park

(วนอุทยานเขาสอน)

This park is situated in Tambon Kosamphi west of Kamphaeng Phet. It is another major tourist attraction developed by the Province as a natural resort. Trip to the park begins from the township area at Km.358 of Kamphaeng Phet-Tak Highway. Turn left at Km.380 and follow the 9 kms. access to the arboretum.

Khlong Wang Chao National Park

(วนอุทยานคลองวังเจ้า)

This National Park is located in Muang District. It has a genuine description of forest for you to explore, including the hills, waterfalls, and mountain streams in the condition of their natural beauty and existence.

Namtok Wang Chomphu

(น้ำตกวังชมภู)

It is located about 30 kms. far from town along the route Kamphaeng Phet-Tak. This small waterfall flows in the rainy season.

Phra Ruang Hot Spring

(บ่อน้ำพุร้อนพระร่วง)

The spring's hot water is believed to be mineral water capable of curing a number of disease and for relieving pain. The spring is about 25 km. away from the Province's administration seat.

Sa Ta Phrom Spring

(น้ำพุธรรมชาติสระตาพรหม)

It is located at km.292 on the left of the route Kamphaeng Phet - Nakhon Sawan in Tambon Don Taeng, Amphoe Khanuworakburi. Its water gushes highly about 2 meters and can be noticed from the distance. This is a natural phenomenon which is rarely found in Thailand.

OTHER TOURIST ATTRACTIONS

Sirichit Park

(สิริจิตอุทยาน)

This park is a multi-purpose public park, located on the bank of Ping River opposite Chakangrao Hotel. It has a sport field, flower garden, tourism public relations center and folk products and handicrafts center or night bazaar, covering the area about 175 rai. (1 acre is equivalent to 2.5 rai)

Ho Trai Wat Khu Yang

(หอไตรวัดคูยาง)

This scripture hall, the architecture of the Rattanakosin Period, is situated in Wat Khu Yang under the responsible area of the Kamphaeng Phet Municipality. It was referred to in the writings of King Rama V. The building was established in the water but its lower part was very far from the water surface. This distinguished pattern was designed to prevent Buddhist Scriptures from damage by termites, cockroaches and rats. Presently, the building is still being in a complete condition.

Wat Chang or Wat Nak Watcharasophon

(วัดช้าง หรือ วัดนาควัชรโสภณ)

It is an old monastery renowned as an origin of the most respected votive tablets "Phra Sum Ko (Mai)" which are now rarely found.

Phran Kratai Marble Mine

(เหมืองหินอ่อนพราณกระต่าย)

This marble mine is located in Amphoe Phran Kratai within the concession area of about 22 rai. It has operated since October 5, 1983. The marble products here have several colors: pink, ivory, white and grey.

Sirikjit Oil Field

(แหล่งน้ำมันสิริกิติ์)

It is an oil source located in Amphoe Lan Krabu under the Thai Shell Exploration & Production Company, the

*Floral float at the Kamphaeng Phet
Mini Banana Festival*

concessionaire. The company started its drill for oil and natural gas for commercial purposes in 1982. The raw oil from this source is called "Namma Phet" (Diamond Oil). The wording "Chot Chuang Chat Chawan" (splendid) has its origin from this oil source as it represents the first hope of Thailand's energy source.

Khlone Lan Hilltribe Handicraft Center

(ศูนย์หัตถกรรมชาวเขาคลองลาน)

This center was established to support the hill tribes namely Hmong, Yao, Lisu, Musur and Karen, dwelling in Amphoe Khlone Lan and Amphoe Khlone Khlung in their income earning and better living. Also it was considered as a means to draw visitors to tourist attractions in Amphoe Khlone Lan. Souvenirs and indigenous products of each hilltribe are on sale here. Among them are clothed, silver decorations, etc. In addition, visitors will witness how to produce decorations from silver.

The center under supervision of the Kamphaeng Phet's Hilltribe Aid and Development Center is located about 5.5 kms. far from town in the village of Khlone Lan, Tambon Khlone Lan Pattana nearby the entrance of the Khlone Lan National Park.

Important Festival

Nop Phra Len Pleng

(งานประเพณีพระเลนเพลง)

This is the traditional festival to give expression of Kamphaeng Phet's culture in Buddha homage paying. Every year, on full moon day in the month of "Makaha Puja" (during February-March period), the grand procession will be organized to pay homage to Lord Buddha's relic at the Phra Borom That Chediaram temple.

The Kamphaeng Phet Mini Banana Festival

(งานสารทไทยกล้วยไข่เมืองกำแพง)

This is another traditional festival, organized to promote and publicize architectural productivity, namely, "Kluay Khai" (mini banana), which has brought fame to Kamphaeng Phet besides celebrating the festival, competition of ceremonious preparations of a kind of traditional food called "Khao Krayathip" (ข้าวกระยาทิพย์) and "Khao Krayasat" (ข้าวกระยาสารท) are arranged during the period of September and October.

Souvenirs

Most souvenir products are edible things, especially agricultural products such as "Kluay Khai" (mini banana), "Khao Krayasat" (sweet rice), "Phuek Chap" (crispy taro). Among other, there are votive tablets, handicraft products of silver and marble. Reservation for traditional Thai Cloth can be made at the center of Kamphaeng Phet Vocational College in Amphoe Muang Kamphaeng Phet, Kamphaeng Phet Province 62000.
